At Conexus, our members' financial well-being drives everything we do. As a valuable spending and credit history building tool, credit cards can play an important role in achieving financial wellness. We're here to help you make the most of this tool and to help you use it to achieve your financial goals.

Here is one tip to keep in mind:

Check your statement on a regular basis. Not only will this help with budgeting, it's also good to review your transactions to make sure nothing out of the ordinary appears on your account—if you see something, report it immediately.

Add your card to your mobile wallet and pay with the convenience of Apple Pay, Google Pay and Samsung Pay.
